CREATE AN ART COOP

TO SUPPORT ARTISTS INSIDE AND OUT OF PRISON

SEPTEMBER 14, 2019 • 1- 3 PM

Southern California Library
6120 S. Vermont Avenue
Los Angeles, CA 90044

---

Collective REMAKE and Friends are holding an initial planning meeting to begin the start-up phase for a Democratically Run Art Cooperative

This is an informational & initial planning session. People/Artists IMPACTED by incarceration and navigating reentry are encouraged to attend. There will be an introduction to cooperatives, and a hands on participatory exercise with the Business Model Canvas, a brainstorm on multiple concepts for cooperative art businesses. Ideas currently include:

- Recycle for ART: a coop that will produce, market and sell art.
- Arts for Healing and Wellness: provide classes, workshops and healing arts
- Multi-media and Design: provide multi media design services and train impacted people in technology and design.

COLLECTIVE REMAKE: Art, Business, Care, Education, Jobs, News, People, and Recycling for Sustainability is a unique social enterprise—in Los Angeles County—designed to support the creation of worker-owned businesses and other kinds of cooperatives with people who have been incarcerated and other individuals who are marginalized socially and economically due to race, sex, class, gender identity, age or ability.
